Meeting in Milan yields no results

Putin advises West not to pressure Russia, warns of 'nuclear discord'

Bilateral talks between Russian President Vladimir Putin and Ukrainian President Petro Poroshenko on Oct. 17 failed to produce either a concrete gas deal or a regime for monitoring the unruly ceasefire in Ukraine's east. <http://goo.gl/J0N9Sz> ; Polish Foreign Minister Grzegorz Schetyna shares his opinion: <http://goo.gl/OZA7G0>

The meetings between European leaders and Putin demonstrated the dead-end situation in solving Ukraine's crisis. The European leaders have softened their rhetoric, as the Russian side threatens possible gas supply disruptions during the winter. <http://goo.gl/7OZ3p9>

Poroshenko said he and Putin had made some progress in resolving their dispute over natural gas, but there had been no decisive breakthrough and details remained to be resolved. <http://goo.gl/7naCXf>

16.10: Attempts by the West to put pressure on Russia because of the events in Ukraine are only complicating the settlement of the situation, Russian President Vladimir Putin has said. <http://goo.gl/Wvfb1p>

Despite an officially-declared cease-fire, the truce in the East has been broken almost daily with casualties mounting, both military and civilian. At least 68 Ukrainian servicemen have been killed and 428 wounded since Sept. 5. <http://goo.gl/NdBG43>

Protesters demanding a ban on communist ideology clashed with police near the Verkhovna Rada parliament building on Oct. 14. Major political groups said they had nothing to do with the clashes and blamed agent provocateurs. <http://goo.gl/EcQA12>

Failing with Novorossiya, Kremlin switches tactics

Putin will not stop aggression without demonstrating at least a small victory, Poland's ex-premier says. <http://goo.gl/Xui4Zh>

After realizing that it's impossible to create Novorossiya, the Kremlin will move to a new tactic for destabilizing Ukraine. It will bribe military officers, special services and police with the aim of organizing a military coup to remove the 1 legally elected government in Ukraine. <http://goo.gl/SVLT6p>

What Went Wrong With EuroMaidan Reformers? <http://goo.gl/HZrXyl>

Many in Moscow and the West have seen Russia's campaign in Ukraine as something new; but in fact, according to a Russian blogger in a post that has been republished by Moscow media, Russia has been using "hybrid warfare" with enormous success for centuries. <http://goo.gl/SfDBCc>

No one has admitted responsibility for the disturbances on Oct 14 when masked protesters tried to storm the parliament and attack police. A marginal group hankering for a military junta to take control seems the likeliest candidate, though multiple questions remain unanswered. <http://khpg.org/en/index.php?id=1413509910>

According to research, Ukrainians strongly oppose Russian aggression. <http://goo.gl/4fouHc>

As Ukraine becomes a cradle of creativity at ridiculing Russian President Vladimir Putin, a GfK poll released Oct.14 explains why. Some 41 percent of Ukrainians say they hate Putin, while 34 percent say they despise him. <http://goo.gl/7ek7VR>

Russia appears to have suffered setbacks over Ukraine and over Moscow's muscle-flexing in the Baltic Sea. German intelligence is reportedly convinced pro-Russian rebels in eastern Ukraine downed the Malaysian airliner in July, and Sweden is now scouring its coastal waters for what could be a crippled Russian submarine. <http://goo.gl/L9WFfv>

Discussions about the effectiveness of sanctions made fruitful ground for speculations by those inclined to fish in troubled waters. Some French business representatives openly ignore the EU restrictions, declaring a readiness to invest in Crimea and other partnerships with Russia. <http://goo.gl/FsklzU>

Parliament adopts anti-corruption legislation

Supporters of dictator laws try to stay in parliament

The adoption of vital anti-corruption legislation, including on the creation of a national anti-corruption bureau, was marred by criticism of amendments which anti-corruption campaigners believe may cripple the laws. <http://goo.gl/zYvVp1> ; <http://goo.gl/AOmChf>

Ukraine's parliament finally adopted Law №3541 which makes real reform of the Public Prosecutor's Office possible. Considering that the reform was a condition of Ukraine's joining the Council of Europe back in 1995, Ukraine's legislators cannot be praised for fast work, but at least they got there. <http://goo.gl/YXT31E> ; <http://goo.gl/XIB9kj>
