EU formally recognises Russia's violation of Minsk ceasefire deal
Russian troops land on Baltic Sea coast

Federica Mogherini, EU High Representative for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy, has questioned Russia's commitment to de-escalating its military activities in Ukraine, saying that increasing attacks in government-held areas in the war-torn east violate February's cease-fire deal agreed in Minsk. http://goo.gl/7SK07D

Russian Prime Minister Medvedev has said that four more countries have been added to its foreign food import ban list. He also threatened on August 13 to add Ukrainian products to the Russian blacklist if Kyiv implemented the economic parts of its Association Agreement with the European Union. http://goo.gl/evYaVu

An opinion poll conducted in July by the Ilko Kucheriv Democratic Initiatives Foundation (DIF) and the Razumkov Center show a shift in Ukrainians' attitude toward NATO membership. If a referendum were held this year on joining NATO, 64% of citizens would vote for joining the Organization. http://goo.gl/Zwj42R

In schools within the territory of the so-called ‘Luhansk People’s Republic’, students will study “the history of the war in Donbas and the emergence of the Republic”. School students will unfortunately be unlikely to critically assess a narrative in which the villains are supposedly a ‘Kyiv Junta’ full of anti-Semitic radicals whom the leaders of the ‘republics’ dismiss as “pathetic Jews”. http://goo.gl/6WYmvw
Western-educated Ukrainians seeking to transform government from key posts
Half-year economic output drops 16 percent

Since the EuroMaidan Revolution, many Ukrainians who lived in the West have dropped their well-paid jobs and returned to Ukraine, inspired to change the country with their newly acquired knowledge. So far, they have achieved mixed success in key government roles, where they have not always been welcomed. [link]

Serhiy Kvit, Minister of Education and Science of Ukraine, held a briefing on March 13 on reforming vocational education and training. One newspaper named Kvit the most successful reformer in the cabinet. But problems remain. The key problem is with the Cabinet of Minister’s hesitance to strongly back up Kvit’s innovation and even go one step further by clearly articulating the guiding principles upon which the post-Maidan educational system should evolve.
