Today American Library held a training about bibliographic citation. A bibliography is not just "works cited." It is all the relevant material you drew upon to write the paper the reader holds. Today we learned how to write a bibliography, how to use punctuation correctly, how to mention periodicals and Web sites.

Academic Integrity is honest and responsible scholarship, it is more than just obeying the rules. How you conduct yourself on campus says a lot about the type of person you are, which speaks to your personal integrity.

We discussed these topics today with Taras Tymochko, coordinator of "Strengthening Academic Integrity in Ukraine Project" (SAIUP) during our training "Academic Integrity: your paths to success". #AcademicIntegrityLib
